

ASTRO-LOGOS

Harry BIRKHOLZ was a Western astrologer since 1973.

He was trained by Georg Glocks in Germany, included all the interpretation techniques as well as long studies based on the work of Dane Rudhyar.

After his education in Vedic (Indian) astrology with Claudio Scubla in the years 2000, Harry BIRKHOLZ offered the synthesis of all his experiences in western and eastern interpretation techniques.

“Astrology belongs to the most ancient cultural heritages of mankind.

Historians suppose that its origin is to be found in Babylon but the complete system already appears in the Indian Rig Veda which, according to careful estimations, goes back to more than 4.500 years. The text of the Rig Veda and the major Vedic astrology literature appeared at the same age.

The fact also that the pre-Columbian Mayans and Aztecs used different astrological techniques leads to the conclusion that in all the civilizations of all the ages people have known the connection between the astronomical cycles and the human cycles.

As the seed contains the whole tree, the moment of the birth includes the whole human potential (Dharma).

The astrological chart shows this promise for realizing it as well as the individual possibilities in the form of a life-design (Karma).

We had here and there, when we were young children, glimpses of our Life-project. Later, when visions and dreams are forgotten, astrology reminds us why we are on this earth and what our mission is.

As the germinating seed has to break through the soil, existence pushes us to fulfill our mission through thoughts, feelings, emotions, wishes, desires, dreams - even through fears and confusions.

We call it crisis when we touch the origin of our Life force, which allows the strength to develop.

It is a moment to recognize the project which is enclosed deep in our heart and which is ready to be manifested.

An astrological chart is a map which indicates to us how to liberate the energies yet bounded and reach our goal.”
